

Disclosure on Outside Activities: Justin Wolfers
November 6, 2014

Covers the past three years, and excludes honoraria less than $1500. See my CV for various unpaid affiliations

My primary academic appointment is at the University of Michigan, where I serve as a Professor of Economics in the School of Literature Arts and Sciences, and as a Professor of Public Policy, within the Ford School of Public Policy.

In 2014/15, I will instead be on leave as a paid Senior Fellow, The Peterson Institute of International Economics. After that, I plan to continue as an unpaid "Non-Resident Senior Fellow."

Separately, I serve in the following (paid) positions:

- Contributing columnist, The New York Times
- Senior Scientist, The Gallup Organization
- From 2011-13, I was a columnist for Bloomberg View

Other paid academic appointments:

- Visiting Professor, The University of Sydney
- Editor, The Brookings Papers on Economic Activity
- Senior Fellow, The Brookings Institution: Usually, I'm an unpaid "Non-Resident Senior Fellow", but I spent some of 2010-11 and all of 2013-14 on leave there full-time as a paid "Senior Fellow.")
- In 2011-12, I was on leave as a full-time paid Visiting Associate Professor of Economics at Princeton University

Paid consulting:

- Panel of Advisers, Congressional Budget Office
- Advisor, Social Progress Imperative
- Advisor, The Good Judgment Project

Paid speeches:

- Brandywine Global Investment Management, 2015
- CFA Institute, 2014 Financial Analysts Seminar
- Summerlin Lecture, Johns Hopkins University
- James R. Jundt Visiting Professor of Economics, Gonzaga University
- Merrick Lecture, University of Virginia
- Represented by the Leigh Bureau.

I am also currently under contract with Worth Publishers to write a Principles of Economics textbook.

Family interests:

My domestic partner, Betsey Stevenson, is an Associate Professor of Public Policy and Economics at the University of Michigan. In 2010-11, she served as Chief Economist at the U.S. Department of Labor, and she is currently serving in the Executive Office of the President as a member of the Council of Economic Advisers.