Fifty-Four Years at the NBER and Still Hanging in There

Michael Grossman
City University of New York Graduate Center, NBER, and IZA

Abstract

I will discuss my involvement in the NBER during the past fifty-four years, with an emphasis on the history of health economics as an area of investigation at the Bureau and the formalization of that field by the establishment of the Health Economics Program and the development of that program.